

Jessica Buhagiar Oral Health Therapist

Jessica graduated from The University of Melbourne with a Bachelor of Oral Health in 2013 and returned to complete her Graduate Certificate of Oral Health Therapy in 2017. Jessica has worked in both the private and public sector. She joined the Affinity Periodontics & Implant Dentistry team in 2026.

Jessica is a dedicated and compassionate Oral Health Therapist committed to helping patients of all ages achieve optimal dental wellness. Jessica brings a gentle, patient-centred approach to general and preventative dental care.

Jessica focuses on comprehensive cleanings, periodontal (gum) treatments, and preventive care. With a strong emphasis on education, Jessica works closely with patients to build practical, effective at-home hygiene routines. Registered with the Dental Board of Australia, Jessica regularly participates in continuing professional development to stay at the forefront of modern dental practices and community oral health initiatives.

Outside of the clinic, Jessica enjoys spending quality time with her husband and young son. She is an avid reader who loves curling up with a good book, and she always looks forward to planning her next travel adventure.
